

EXHIBIT B – Whois Privacy Corp. Homepage

The image shows the homepage of Whois Privacy Corp. At the top left is a shield logo with 'WHOIS PRIVACY' text. To the right are 'Home' and 'Contact Us' buttons. The main heading reads 'Welcome to Whois Privacy Corp' followed by 'The Privacy Solutions for Domain Name Owners'. A paragraph explains that the company keeps domain ownership details private. Below this is a green 'Report Abuse' button with a warning icon. A line of text defines 'Report Abuse' as reporting spam, intellectual property infringement, illegal activities, and law enforcement. A 'Benefits:' section lists six points about domain control, email filtering, renewal, website management, contact updates, and dispute resolution. A comparison section titled 'Whois Privacy Corp protects your identity. How it works:' shows two directory views: 'Public Whois Directory' (unprotected, showing registrant details) and 'Private Whois Directory' (protected, showing Whois Privacy Corp details). A final paragraph states that identity is only revealed in special circumstances, with a list of three cases: legal requirements, subpoenas, and third-party claims. The footer contains copyright and policy links.
